Editor's View From the Rim

Stepping Back To A Bygone Era

Yes, it is a New Year... 2020!, and even a Leap Year at that; one of those years that has that funny little surplus day this month of February 29th that keeps the calendar balanced so it doesn't drift from the astronomical year as we orbit the sun.

2020 is also the start of a New Decade!

These 10-year increments seem to travel and go by too fast in our lives at what appears to be lightning speed. Odd how each of the 10-year segments of time take on a personality and character of their own? Each decade has its own fads and gimmicks, in-style fashion and décor, and its own technological advancements that can be so hard to keep up with.

Most of us can still remember past decades like the start of the Millennium in 2000, the 90's., the 80's., the 70's., the 60's., the 50's., the 40's., and even the 30's for some of us. Some of us can remember those times as if they were just only yesterday in our lives.

Speaking of those past decades in the 19th Century, can you imagine our ancestors recalling for instance the Civil War and Slavery? How about remembering the really 'hard times' of the 19th Century; or the horse and buggy as a convenient means of transportation, unpaved roads too, adventurous pioneers, the Wild West, the Gold Rush, early steam locomotives, the first photographs, the tragedies of numerous ships sinking at sea and countless lives lost, the American Industrial Age, advances in science and medicine, 19th Century American politics, economic crises and the banks, and the Gay Nineties?

So, if you will allow yourself each month; let us step back in time to a bygone era of the Liberty Seated coin design period both far and wide (and maybe at times a little before and a little afterward).

The Liberty Seated U.S. coin design series with multiple denominations covers a fascinating period of American history and economic prosperity that can also be translated through "numismatics" in a way that collectors of our day can truly understand and appreciate.

The next time you are at a coin & currency show, busy on the bourse floor, on-line at a dealer's website or eBay or an auction, or in person at an auction, at a museum, or studying the items in your collection; recognize the essence of what you are doing may be deeply rooted in your underlining appreciation of history & art, the banking & monetary system, the minting of those old coins, and the engraving & printing of those old notes.

Going forward with the E-Gobrecht for the benefit of its subscribers and readers, there is obviously much interesting numismatic subject matter pertaining to the 19th Century that can be shared. Here is at least a beginning Plan for the E-Gobrecht for the coming decade of the 2020's... maybe we could call it the "Reflective 20's" here unlike the "Roaring 20's" of a century ago. PK

2020 Roars off to a Big Start

The FUN Show lives up to its name!

The Regional staff had a very busy time of it at FUN. All reports point to a great show in Florida.

Here's Jeff Ball (Southeast Regional Director) with the recap: The LSCC has had a very successful FUN show. The table has been staffed during all show hours and traffic has been very steady. We have had conversations with members and friends old and new non-stop.

We had 7 for the LSCC dinner. The Orena Sports Bar location was awful. The minute I walked in I could smell smoke. Yes, there is still smoking in some Florida eating establishments. So I waited out front and gathered dinner attendees as they arrived. Carl recommended a nearby TGI Fridays and off we went. We had a wonderful evening of discussion on all things from helicopters to performance cars to even coins.

The meeting Friday was perfect. All AV equipment worked perfectly. There were 33 members in attendance (DF - wow). We followed the agenda with intros, group photo, club business and the half dime educational presentation by John Frost. John's presentation was very well received. Many members commented on how it may possibly spark an interest in collecting half dimes.

The presentation was a nice tribute to the efforts of documenting important varieties by Stephen Crain. The educational display at the LSCC table supported the research by Mr. Crain.

John will have the final numbers on renewals/new members and shirt sales. I know we had many in all categories.

All volunteers have been amazing. John's tireless efforts are to be commended! I am sure he can provide a few more details I have left out.

Thanks for the help of all regional volunteers and we are looking forward to FUN 2021.

John Frost reports 4 new members and 7 member renewals at FUN. Three shirts were sold at FUN as well.

Report on Liberty Seated "FUN Talks" by John Frost:

On Saturday, Dick Osburn and Brian Cushing had a FUN Lecture, entitled "How Rare are Liberty Seated Dollars." About 30 people were in attendance which was impressive, but perhaps not surprising given that the largest percentage (by far) of attendees at the LSCC Meeting the previous day said they were Liberty Seated dollar collectors. Included in the talk were interesting statistics contrasting certified populations and pricing of selected Seated dollars with those of the 1893-S Morgan dollar, 1916-D Mercury dime, and 1909-S VDB cent. A lot of eyes were opened that day!

Special thanks to Joe Casazza and Carl Feldman for staffing the table, Dick and Brian for their Liberty Seated Dollar talk, and a very special thanks to Jeff and John for all their work. A real team effort!

John Frost's Houston Money Show Report:

A week after FUN, the LSCC was in Conroe, TX for the Houston Money Show. The new venue north of the city continues to attract large numbers of attendees, and the show was crowded most of Friday and much of Saturday as well. Lane Brunner and John Frost staffed the club table, which featured both half dimes and Trade dollars. We signed up one new member and greeted numerous club members who joined the LSCC at earlier Houston shows we've attended the last six years. On Friday, John gave an educational program on Trade Dollars to 15 collectors during the peak of the afternoon bourse activity. We are already looking forward to next year's show, which will be two weeks after FUN, so it will be a less hectic ordeal getting from one show to the other!

The Knoxville Show report will be in the next edition of the E-Gobrecht as it straddles the end of January and the beginning of February, and I don't want to delay this report.

Long Beach Feb 20-22: West Coast Regional Director Brian Cushing will host the Club

table at the Long Beach Expo. The Club dinner will be at the Rock Bottom Brewery, 1 Pine Avenue, on Thursday at 6:30 p.m.

Club shirts have been selling well and our supply is starting to run low on some sizes. If you're in the market for a Club shirt do not wait too long.

The next issue of The Gobrecht Journal will be out in March. If you have been procrastinating on your membership renewal, it's getting down to crunch time. You don't want to miss the next issue. Bill Bugert says it's superb!

Stolen Coins

Recently a well known Liberty Seated dealer had some rare coins stolen by a USPS delivery person. The coins were to be delivered to a customer. That customer's delivery person took the coins. Ninety eight percent of USPS employees are honest, hard working people.

Much of your personal life is reflected in the mail delivered to your door every day. Your politics, financial information, and yes even your passion for coins. If you receive mailings from Heritage, Stacks or coin catalogs, your carrier knows you are a coin collector.

What follows is a few suggestions to hopefully reduce the chances of becoming a victim of theft by a delivery person:

1. Get to know your carrier. Be more than just a delivery address to your carrier. Learn who is delivering your mail, learn their name, how long they've been working for the Post Office, and how long they've been delivering your mail.

2. Remember your carrier during the holidays and throughout the year. Even a small gift is appreciated. Perhaps offer a cold drink on a hot summer day.

3. If you are apprehensive about having coins stolen through the mail, you can open a P.O. Box which will cut out one level of risk.

Switching delivery service may not solve the problem. Commercial delivery companies tend to run their employees hard leading to much shorter careers. This reinforces today's mentality of moving from job to job rather than making a career with one company or service. A long term professional career-oriented delivery person is your best defense against theft. Dennis Fortier, VP

Quarter of the Month

by Greg Johnson, LSCC #1460

An Interesting 1875-S

1875-S Liberty Seated Quarter with a Very Late Die State Reverse

Liberty Seated Quarters are interesting on many levels. The beauty of a gem uncirculated example or the rarity of the big four CC's have obvious appeal. But often the best finds in the series are among common dates in common grades. That's the case this month with an 1875-S Briggs 4-D in PCGS VF35.

The 1875-S is a date that is much less common, and less generally available than: a) the price guides appear to suggest; and b) most collectors not intimately familiar with the series generally suspect. The overlooked scarcity of the issue is compounded by the fact that the average example is quite poorly made. It is typical to find weak and uneven strikes, heavily cracked dies, and an overall appearance ranging from bad to awful. Briggs, in The Comprehensive Encyclopedia of United States Liberty Seated Quarters, speculated that the reported mintage of 680,000 might be notably higher than the number truly produced, while estimating the issue as R4 in F/VF, R4+ in XF/AU and R5 in UNC. The PCGS population of 154 in all grades, with half of those being uncirculated, indicates that the issue is probably not as scarce as it seemed to Briggs, but the CAC population of 17 in all grades supports observations regarding the quality and appearance of the issue.

The pictured coin is, as mentioned, in a PCGS VF35 holder. It is so lightly struck that the technical grade could, in fact, be notably higher than the "market grade" on the holder. Key features of this example are roller marks evident on both obverse and reverse, reverse weakness particularly in the middle portion of AMERICA, and heavy die cracks culminating in the appearance of a retained cud engulfing the UAR in QUAR. At a time when coin making was generally far more consistent and of higher quality than in the early years of the series, the 1875-S quarter seems like a throwback to an era of poorly produced hand-made dies. The pictured coin is a surprisingly and delightfully crude example.

Superior eye appeal with incredible surface quality, impeccable strike and preservation. Great color of amber-gold, copper hues, and blue tones. From the HFW2 Collection (Lot #4162) realized $20,400 in the Heritage Platinum Night Session at FUN.

Stories from the Club Table

by Dennis Fortier, LSCC #2016

Guess My Date

Several years ago while trolling eBay I saw a two coin lot of holed half dollars. The coin I was interested in was very much worn. I won the lot cheap as no one suspected what I knew. I then sent the one coin of interest off to a TPG to see if they would get the certification correct. John Frost had hopes that they would fail to correctly attribute the coin and we could display their failure.

However they did get it right. I taped over the header of the slab and we began displaying the coin as the “Guess My Date” coin. You see our idea was to challenge members and collectors to test their series knowledge and identify the coin. In testing collector knowledge we can demonstrate the advantages of learning everything you can about the series you collect.

The challenge of the “Guess My Date” coin is that the last digit of the date is worn away. There are several clues that can identify the specific date of the coin nonetheless.

The first clue is the “S” mintmark on the reverse of the coin. That narrows things down a bit. Next the top of one arrow on the left side is still visible. These two clues alone should be enough to figure-out the date, but there is still one more clue to use. From the scan I could not see the remnants of the arrow, but I could see the 5 in the third date position. The 5 was slanted. My knowledge of the half dollar series told me that the 5’s from 1851 thru 1855 were slanted and starting in 1856 the 5’s were straightened.

As the San Francisco mint did not start minting silver coins until 1855 these clues left no doubt that the coin was an 1855-S half dollar; one of the semi-key dates of the series. Many show attendees have taken the challenge over the years. Overall about 30% of club members have passed the test with half dollar collectors doing a bit better. Non-members average about 10-15%.

This has been one more tool in our tool belt to demonstrate why being a member of the finest ♥ club in the hobby is a good idea.

The Curious Collector

by Len Augsburger, LSCC #1271

The Ultra High Grade Age and Rage

Dave Bowers writes in a recent issue of Coin World “PCGS tells me that a 1954-D Washington quarter dollar is worth $22 in MS-65 grade and $15,000 in MS-67+ grade. I am probably old-fashioned, but I would rather spend $15,000 on a grand tour of Europe for a month and have a quarter in ‘only’ MS-65 grade....some of these things are beyond anyone to figure out.....” I’m all with Dave on spending $15,000 on an experience instead of a two-point upgrade. One could also acquire quite a few pieces of nice collector-grade Liberty Seated material for the same price.

I used to think this sort of pricing for ultra high grade modern coins was the supreme expression of stupidity. In the 1990s and 2000s I was fully convinced that the next issue of Coin World would contain a large, bold headline announcing that the modern market has crashed and that collectors were rushing to get out of the market, no matter how steep the losses. Guess what? It never happened. Today this is a broad market with consistent auction results to back it up. The 1954-D quarter in MS67+ may not be worth $15,000 to you, but it is in fact worth $15,000.

Collectors strive to be distinct. It’s all about having something the other person doesn’t. The 1874-CC dime is a good example. There can’t be more than a hundred examples, so simply having one at all qualifies as a mark of distinction. Of course, you can get even pickier if you like. You can insist on a PCGS-graded example (the PCGS population report indicates 60 grading “events”), or one bearing the CAC seal of approval (of which there are 13).

Modern collectors have their own distinctions. PCGS reports over a thousand examples of the 1954-D quarter in MS65, but just 20 in MS67, and only 4 at the MS67+ level. If you are hanging with fellow collectors, the 67+ coin is going to get a lot of attention. But here is where the Liberty Seated collectors get skeptical. The rarity of the 1874-CC dime, based on the number of pieces that actually exist, seems more fixed than the rarity of the 1954-D quarter in MS67+, which is based on the number of grading opinions that exist. Can’t additional grading opinions be created much more easily than actual coins?

It turns out, not necessarily. It’s no secret that the grading services are quite aware of market dynamics, the integrity of their brands, and the need to “hold the line.” The collective trust in the services is what supports the ultra high grade modern market, and for over 30 years the model has more or less held up. It’s time for the “old fashioned” folks like myself to acknowledge that this is a legitimate market with legs that isn’t going anywhere. I won’t be buying the 1954-D 25c in MS67+ anytime soon, but I’m not going to discredit the collector who does.

Auction News February 2020

by Craig Eberhart, LSCC #1348

Heritage Signature Auction FUN Convention in Orlando, February 8-12, 2020

As with the December Signature auction, numerous better date Liberty Seated coins were included in this sale, many of them with Certified Acceptance Corporation (CAC) stickers. I tend to report CAC-stickered coins because they are often "solid" coins for the grade (as expressed by CAC and no, I have never received any remuneration from CAC to say this!).

A pair of 1840 no drapery half dimes provide an interesting comparison. The top coin was graded MS67+ and the bottom coin was graded AU58+. They look quite similar based on their respective images, but the hammer prices were, of course quite different. I did not examine these coins, but it is likely that surface conditions, often not captured by a photograph, are the primary difference.

Two 1867 half dimes were sold with the MS-64 grade only hammering for about 50% more than the VF35 example. Several pairs of Liberty Seated dollars are also listed for comparison. Even though not included here, there were 12 Liberty Seated and 20 Trade dollars from the Carson City mint in this auction. Multiple examples of Carson City dollars have been sold in many recent major auctions, especially the 1870-CC and 1872-CC dates. As such, they are not often reported in this column.

One of the more interesting coins in the sale was the 1840-(O) medium letter reverse half dollar. Randy Wiley and Bill Bugert, two of our illustrious LSCC Hall of Fame members, were the first to discover that this non-mintmarked coin was a product of the New Orleans Mint. They also identified two die marriages with the current example being the much rarer marriage (WB-12). The hammer price seemed strong, but having studied this date for many years and having viewed the coin at the FUN show, I consider the selling price to be quite reasonable for this coin with the WB-12 die marriage.

Legend Regency Auction, January 30, Las Vegas, NV

Results from this auction were not available when this column was prepared. As usual with Legend auctions many high grade coins are included in the sale. Perhaps the most interesting Liberty Seated coins are the 18 dollars from the Bear Creek Collection. Most are scarcer dates in AU or uncirculated grades.

ANA and NGC to Launch ANA Registry

Colordo Springs, CO (Jan. 28, 2020) - The American Numismatic Association (ANA) and Numismatic Guaranty Corporation® (NGC®) have partnered to launch the ANA Registry later this year.

Many collectors participate in online registry programs offered by NGC and Professional Coin Grading Service (PCGS), the hobby's leading third-party coin grading services. These programs help numismatists organize their collections, set collecting goals and learn from other collectors around the world.

The competitive aspect of registry set collecting holds particular allure for numismatists. Registered coins receive a point score based on their grade, relative rarity and value. These scores are then tallied, and collections are ranked based on their total score. The top sets receive prizes and recognition.

The ANA Registry will allow both NGC- and PCGS-certified U.S. coins to be registered and displayed, recognizing that most U.S. coin collectors have certified coins from both services. Participation will be free and open to all collectors. ANA members will receive a special icon of recognition next to their sets.

"We are excited to announce the launch of the ANA Registry, a state-of-the-art collecting tool available at no cost to ANA members," says ANA President Steven Ellsworth. "NGC has provided tremendous support to the Association for the past 25 years, and we're delighted to be partnering on this venture. The ANA Registry will be the premier registry platform for U.S. coin collectors."

The top ANA Registry sets will be recognized annually during the ANA World's Fair of Money, the country's most important numismatic event. ANA members will be eligible to compete for prizes valued at more than $20,000.

Awards will be presented in categories that include Best Classic Sets, Best Modern Sets, Best Presented Sets, Best New Sets, Most Educational Sets and Best Overall Sets. The three winners in the Best Overall Sets category will be honored at the official ANA Banquet at the ANA World's Fair of Money, and all the major award winners will be recognized in The Numismatist, the official publication of the ANA.

The first ANA Registry Awards will be held in August 2021.

The ANA Registry will have a strong educational mission. In addition to establishing an award for Most Educational Sets, the ANA Registry will display two or three important and informative sets in the Museum Showcase area at the ANA World's Fair of Money. Participants also will be able to add images and commentary for all of their coins and sets.

Costs associated with developing the ANA Registry will be borne by NGC, which is committed to utilizing the latest technologies to feature an elegant, easy-to-use interface. The ANA Registry will be hosted on the ANA website, money.org.

"The ANA is pleased to work with NGC to offer this collector-friendly registry set program," says Kim Kiick, ANA executive director. "Although the ANA Registry is open to all collectors free-of-charge, only ANA members will reap the benefit of winning awards."

Mark Salzberg, NGC chairman and grading finalizer, notes, "This collaboration will bring the hobby together in an inclusive platform for the benefit of all — collectors, dealers, researchers and grading services. We are honored to work with the ANA on this transformative development for the hobby."

The NGC Registry will continue to exist on NGCcoin.com with all the coins and sets in the NGC Registry automatically included in the ANA Registry. As a result, when the ANA Registry launches, it will already include more than 130,000 sets and 1.1 million coins from the best collections from around the world.

The ANA Registry will debut later in 2020. Announcements with more information, including details about how to participate, will be forthcoming.

[Editor: The forthcoming ANA Registry Program should be of special interest to E-Gobrecht readers as many individuals already participate in registry set competitive collecting under NGC and PCGS.]
